SUMMARY

The first preview of "Windows 10" was released on October 1, 2014. It is called "Windows Technical Preview". It comes in two editions. Both are free but both expire on April 15, 2015. There are four ways for you to try out the "Windows Technical Preview".

TOPICS

- What is the "Windows Technical Preview" of "Windows 10"?
- Keylogging and Data Collection by Microsoft from Inside the "Windows Technical Preview"
- System requirements ₄

TOPICS (continued)

- Differences Between the "Windows Technical Preview" and the "Windows Technical Preview for Enterprise"
- Downloading the "Windows Technical Preview.."
- Five Ways to Try the "Windows Technical Preview"

TOPICS (continued)

- Installing New Builds From Inside "Windows Technical Preview.."
- Features of the "Windows Technical Preview.."

WHAT IS THE "WINDOWS TECHNICAL PREVIEW"?

The "Windows Technical Preview" is a free, time-limited operating system that gives us a look at the future of "Windows 10" while "Windows 10" is still in the development process.

TWO "PREVIEW" EDITIONS OF
"WINDOWS 10"
WERE RELEASED
ON OCTOBER 1, 2014

- "Windows Technical Preview"
- "Windows Technical Preview for Enterprise"

Both The "Windows
Technical Preview"
and the "Windows
Technical Preview for Enterprise" looks like

KEYLOGGING AND DATA COLLECTION BY MICROSOFT FROM INSIDE

"WINDOWS TECHNICAL PREVIEW

- During the installation of the "Windows Technical Preview" or the "Windows Technical Preview With Enterprise" the "License Terms" (that you are asked to accept) tell you to see the "Privacy Statement" at <http://go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?linkid=506737>

The software may:

- automatically collect and transmit data to Microsoft and its partners regarding activities on your device, including personal information (see Privacy Statement for details go.microsoft.com/fwlink/?linkId=506737);

data; and application usage. For example, when you:

- install the Program, we may collect information about your device and applications and use it for purposes such as determining or improving compatibility,
- use voice input features like speech-to-text, we may collect voice information and use it for purposes such as improving speech processing,
- open a file, we may collect information about the file, the application used to open the file, and how long it takes and use it for purposes such as improving performance, or
- enter text, we may collect typed characters and use them for purposes such as improving autocomplete and spellcheck features.

- Strategies for dealing with keylogging and data collection by Microsoft:
 - No secure Website access or online purchases from within the "Windows Technical Preview.."
 - Isolate computers or virtual machines running "Windows Technical Preview.." in a DMZ multiple router configuration

Welcome to the Tucson Computer Society!
Beginner .. Intermediate .. Computer Geek
This is the Computer Club for YOU!

We're the largest open membership PC Users Group in southern Arizona. What expertise, the Tucson Computer Society provides the necessary tools to enhance skills.

Our General Meetings are free and open to the public!

Please attend our next General Meeting at PCMS on Monday Oct. 20, 2014 at 6:00pm.

Topic: Using The "Windows 10 Technical Preview" To Look At The Future of "Windows.."

After the presentation, we will have a Breakout Session where you can supply questions and/or answers for various computer-related topics.

Our new Facebook page is located at <https://www.facebook.com/tucsoncomputersociety>

We are active participants in the online Speakers Bureau of the Association of Personal Computer User Groups (APCUG). Please see our comprehensive list of available presentations. Please provide us with an opportunity to present to your computer user group!

IMPROVED "SNAP" AND
Similar to "Windows 7",
"Windows 8" and "Windows
8.1", you can use the
"Windows Key" combined with
the four "arrow keys" to move
a window to the two side-by-side halves of the monitor screen.

IMPROVED "SNAP" AND
(Unlike for "Windows 7",
"Windows 8" and "Windows

"Windows Key" combined with
the four "arrow keys" to move
a window to any of the four quadrants of the monitor
screen.

After you snap one window to a quadrant corner or a horizontal half of the monitor screen, "Snap Assist" pops up thumbnails of other windows for you to click on to also snap them to the remaining corners or horizontal half of the monitor screen:
