Organize Your Files Into Folders

One of the easiest ways to organize your Google Drive is to create category-specific folders. For example, you could have separate folders for pictures, documents, projects, or other descriptions to help you locate files.

The screenshot shows the Google Drive homepage. A red arrow labeled '1' points to the 'New' button in the top left corner. Another red arrow labeled '2' points to the 'Folder' option in the dropdown menu that appears below the 'New' button. The 'My Drive' section is visible on the right.
