Why?

How To!

The image features the words "How To!" in a bold, 3D, sans-serif font. The letters are white with a thick red outline. The text is arranged in two lines: "How" on top and "To!" below it. The letters have a slight shadow and a reflection on the white surface they are standing on, giving them a three-dimensional appearance. The overall style is clean and modern.

The advertisement features a dark blue background with a sunset silhouette of mountains at the bottom. On the left, the Backpack Studio logo (three green vertical bars) is shown above the text 'Make professional sounding podcasts and radio, from anywhere.' and a paragraph describing the app's real-time recording and mixing capabilities. A 'Download on the App Store' button is positioned below the text. On the right, a smartphone displays the app's interface, which includes a 'Pause' button, a timer at '0:17', a 'recording' status, and a grid of colorful buttons for various audio effects like 'apex', 'haze', 'laughter', 'clap', 'bump', 'echo', 'reverb', 'pitch', 'dist', 'fx', 'fx2', and 'fx3'. A microphone icon is visible at the bottom of the phone's screen.

Ask The Garden Geek with Michael Crose

By Michael Crose

Michael Crose is a home and garden expert who enjoys advising listeners on anything from when to plant to how to prune. Light hearted and lively, he conveys information and fun through his shows and feels no question is too simple or mundane. Because every show is different in content, you never know what Michael may say next. You will hear talk about lawns, shrubs, trees and gardens.

A screenshot of a Google search results page for the query "royalty free music". The browser's address bar shows the search URL. The Google logo is on the left, and the search bar contains the text "royalty free music". Below the search bar, there are several search results. The first result is a snippet about monetizing videos without copyright claims. The second is an advertisement for Shutterstock Music Library. The third is an advertisement for Jamendo Licensing. The fourth is an advertisement for 100% Royalty Free Music. The fifth is a result for Bensound. At the bottom, there is a "Videos" section header.
