Since the Computer Club is closed until April 1, and possibly longer, we thought you might enjoy some learning links and ideas that you could explore at home.

>> Google and YouTube to the Rescue!

If you can't figure out how to do something on your computer, try what Kathy Arnold suggests: "Let's Google the problem and/or watch a YouTube video."

Do a Google search about your specific problem. You will likely find the answer, not necessarily from the manufacturer, but from the user community.

Search YouTube for training videos on many topics.

>> LibreOffice (free Microsoft-compatible software)

Take some time to learn how to use LibreOffice. Here are a few links to get you started.

>> Cyber Risks Related to Coronavirus

Be aware that there are many unscrupulous people out there trying to take advantage of those concerned about COVID-19. Here's how to stay safe and protect yourself and your computer.

On March 6, 2020, the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) released an alert reminding individuals to remain vigilant for scams related to Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19). Cyber actors may send emails with malicious attachments or links to fraudulent websites to trick victims into revealing sensitive information or donating to fraudulent charities or causes. Exercise caution in handling any email with a COVID-19-related subject line, attachment, or hyperlink, and be wary of social media pleas, texts, or calls related to COVID-19.

CISA encourages individuals to remain vigilant and take the following precautions.

- Avoid clicking on links in unsolicited emails and be wary of email attachments. See Using Caution with Email Attachments and Avoiding Social Engineering and Phishing Scams for more information.
- Use trusted sources—such as legitimate, government websites—for up-to-date, fact-based information about COVID-19.
- Do not reveal personal or financial information in email, and do not respond to email solicitations for this information.
- Verify a charity's authenticity before making donations. Review the Federal Trade Commission's page on Charity Scams for more information.
- Review CISA Insights on Risk Management for COVID-19 for more information.
